Subject: For Microsoft

I posted this in the Apple Discussion forum after another user post a link to this e-mail address urging everyone to write you against Microsoft:

I think the one Jaun posted was a waste of time. How is hurting MS going to help me? I'm against this whole going after MS on principle. It's just wrong. Who's next? Apple? Sun? Last time I checked Sun OS only runs on Sun hardware, sure they put Netscape on it but who cares?

What have they done that is so wrong???? Bundle their software on their OS? Big deal. I never wanted Netscape anyway and if I did I could easily download and install it.

Let it be decided by the consumer. If you don't like it don't buy it. We're proof they don't have a monopoly on the market, aren't we?

This is no place for the government, they need to be concerned about protecting us from criminals and terrorists, not Bill Gates!!!
